All the Peaceable Indians Flocking Into the Reservation Which is Taken as a Sign That Trouble is Sure to Follow. Latest From the Frontier.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 27.—A Pierre, S. Dak., special to The Tribune says: For the first time during the Indian scare of Reveral weeks duration the people of Pierre have cause for serious alarm. Heretofore the people here have treated all reports of the Indian uprising with a certain degree of amusement. Scotty Phillips and Charles Waldron, two ranchers who are well known all over the wes, being cattle kings on the late reservation lands, together with many other hig cattlement arrived in the city. several weeks duration the people of other big cattlemen, arrived in the city in fast haste, bring word of the trouble brewing twenty-five miles south of them nor Millette who knows them well.

They report that the Indians are now engaged in killing cattle belonging to ranchmen by the score, but it is their manner of killing the cattle more than the number that shows points of ngliness in their character to one who is familiar with Indian character. In some places they found a carcass with arrows in its body, which is as much as to say an Indian with a bad heart did this and what are you going to do about it, Indians who were formerly smiling and friendly and would converse, are now surly looking, dumb as oysters, and carry their belts full of certridges and an excellent Winchester over their shoulder.

All the semi-airidisal the agency restless and dissatisfied.

It is now a caceded that Royer's first mistake was in calling for troops before there was any need of them. This has bought about the danger of fighting. Troops cannot now be withdrawn without disregarding the agent's authority, and it is feared if the tension is continged much longer the young men who are inclined to fight will go off on raids in small bands. Reports at army head-quarters here confirm the statement that Gen. Brooke still deems the situation serious.

MILES' INFORMATION. Scotty Phillips' Story Sent to Division

Headquarters.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Gen. Miles has received the following telegram from Governor Millette, of South Dakota, dated Pierre, S. Dak .:

"Scotty Phillips, a cattleman, living at the mouth of the Grand Stone Butt Creek, brings me the following intelligence. Phillips is a very cool, courage-ous and reliable man and was a good scout throughout the Sioux and Cheyenne troubles. He reports eight days ago, five lodges, containing twelve bucks, armed with Winchesters and laden with ammunition, camped at his house, going from Rosebud to a large camp which is formed on White river, at the mouth of Pass Creek.

"The Indians were surely and defiant in manner. One of them said he had seen the time when they used to beat out the brains of children and drink womens' blood, and that the time was coming when they would do it again. In the last few days Phillips has had twenty cattle killed by the Indians. Three half-breeds from White river stopped at Phillip's house Monday night and said they expected to find the settlements destroyed when they got home. ments destroyed when they got home. The forts continued firing alternately until each had given the National saluce of twenty-one guns. Then the yards of the "Aquidaban" were manned, her colors dipi ed and the salute returned gun for gun at intervals of ten seconds each. Her band on the quarter deck played "Red, White and Blue." The corvette Guanbara also saluted as she came abreast of the forts with the National salute of twenty-one guns.

A Standing Rock Agency, N. Dak., special to The Tribune says: Lieut. Crowder, of the Eighth cavalry, with the four men of his troop who were detailed last Sunday to make a tour of the squadron was enlivened by a continuous salute of whistles from the many passing steamers, ferry and tug boats. Passing Castle William the visitors were given a salute of fifteen guns, which was promptly returned. Off I wenty-thard street the vessels came to anchor just below where the cruiser Philadelphia lay.

Then came the steam launches from the ships of the white squadron, bearing the representatives of the different admirals. Lieut. Pall paid his respects to Rear Admiral Da Silviera on behalf of Admira Ghera di; Lieut. Stanton did the same for Admiral Walker and Lieut. Norton appeared for Rear Admiral Braine.

Senhor Valente the Brazilian minister at Washington, and Dr. DeCortu of the Brazilian legation also boarded the Aquidaban at the same time. The whole party was conducted below where they were received by Admiral Da Silviera. They were introduced to the Brazilian admiral and each one pre-ented the compliments of his commander. General introductions and a short social talk followed.

The naval officers left the ship after half an hour's call and the other visitors soon followed. At 1 o'clock Admiral Da Silviera accompanied by Dr. Valente went ashore and made his first call on Admiral Walker. From there he went to the Brooklyn nav yyard and paid his respects to Rear Admiral Braine, at the commandant's house.

Then he returned to the foot of West Twenty-third street and was rowed to the Philadelphia, where Admiral Ghe-rardi was called upon. Wednesday evening the Brazilian admiral and some of his officers dined with Admiral Walker at the Fifth Avenue hotel.

The climax in golf has come in Eng land. It is not simply men who work chiefly with their brains-judges, clergymen, artists, journalists, members of parliament and novelists—that have taken to it almost en masse, and are never weary of singing its praises as the bands. He thinks there are 1,000 longes and 1,500 armed warriors there now. The Indians say they will not give up Short Bull, and will fight when the soldiers try to arrest them. LIBERALS DISMAYED

Parnell Refuses to Give Up the First Leadership.

PRESSURES FROM ALL SIDES.

Nearly all Think There is No Hope For the Irish Cause Unless Parnell Steps Down and Out-Various Other Foreign

LONDON, Nov. 27 .- The Liberals are immensely dismayed at Mr. Parnell's decision to retain the Irish leadership in parliament. They have not yet given up all hope of altering his determination, and the greatest pressure is being brought to bear upon him and upon the few who are supposed to have any influence with him, to secure, if possible, a reconsideration of his intention as announced Wednesday.

A canvass was made in the lobby of the house, with the views of a large number of Liberal members being obtained. The large majo ity of these members agreed that it will le useless to think of winning in a general election, handicapped by an alliance with a party headed by a notorious adulterer. The fear was generally expressed that the government will take advantage of this fact to dissolve parliament and appeal to the country while the feeling against Mr. Parnell is yet hot.

It is feared that the coming by elec-tion for Basselaw, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Beckett, will reveal a marked falling off of the Liberal vote. If so there can hardly be any doubt left that the government will take the course referred to. The blindness of the Nationalists in n is ing upon Mr. Parnell's retention of the leadership is looked upon by experienced politicians with amazement, and as evidence that the members of that party have lost their heads entirely.

Many Liberals declare that they will not act or vote in conjunction with the Irish members so long as Mr. Parnell is at their head, no matter what the Liberal party caucus may decide upon as the cause to be pursued by the party as a whole. One of the Irish members is said to have prepared a long list of the domestic mi-steps of English statesmen and members of the loyalty and nobili's, which he is ready to launch out under cover of the privilege of parliament, should the O'Shea case be mentioned. As many of these cases have never been published, but could be published without risk of libel in a report of parlia-mentary proceedings, there is much quaking in the higher circles of British

Royal Message Read.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 27 .- The royal message announcing the death of King William III, and the accession to the throne of Princess Wilhemina was read Wednefday in parliament. The members rose to receive the message, after the reading of which the president of the chamber made a brief address. He expressed the profound sorrow felt by the country over the demise of the king, who, he said, had never failed to maintain the constitutional rights and liberties of the people.

He knew that parliament would honor the king's memory by proving their devotion to the young queen and her mother, who had been bequeated as precious pledges to the nation. Let the national union pe shown by a common reconciliation and let legislature endeaver to smooth the path of the two queens and do all in its power to make the performance of their duties an easy task. Upon the conclusion of the presidents remarks the house adjourned.

The body of the king was placed in a coffin tonight. The queen was not present. The funeral will take place on Dec 4.

It is said that the condition of affairs in the kameras is horrible; that the women prisoners, many of them of respectable training, are at the mercy of the guards and also of any prisoners who bribe the guards for admission to the female kameras. The empress is said to have prompted the investigation.

Germany's Designs on Holland. London, Nov. 27.—Official organs in St. Petersburg and Moscow already ex-press apprehension of the possible designs of Germany on the independence of Holland, and one Russian newspaper quotes the remark once ascribed to Bismarck, that the Netherland ports were natural outlets of the commerce of Germany. Resistance on the part of other great powers to any movement against Holland's autonomy is predicted.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 27.—A severe northerly gale has been blowing all over Denmark and the shipping and trade services are much hindered in conse-quence. Several towns have been par-tially flooded, the water having risen six feet above the ordinary level, and to add to the misery a keen frost is now prevailing.

at New York police headquarters seemed reasonably convinced that they have discovered the boy. Charles A. Grant, chief clerk of police commissioners of New York, diligently worked the clew down to this point where Inspector Byrnes was consulted, and the Vidocq of New York police apparently thinks it wort active efforts.

About three months ago Mr. Grant received information from a livery stable keeper that he knew a woman who received information from a livery sta-ble keeper that he knew a woman who had told him that she knew where Charles Ros was to be found and that he was alive and had been brought up by relatives of one of his abductors. Mr. Grant investigated the story and found the boy referred to. He was liv-ing with a family named McChristy at 1074 Park avenue. Grant ingratiated himself into the confidence of a chum of the loy, who by adroit questioning the loy, who by adroit questioning prompted by Mr. Grant, learned things which convinced him he was on the right track.

The boy admitted to his chum that McChristy's were not his parents, and declared that he was Charlie Ross. He described almost accurately what was known of the abduction, about being taken away in a carriage and being kept on a boat for many days. When asked why he did not go to his parents, he re-plied: "My father is dead and my mother is in the lunatic asylum." The boy was known to his companions as Charlie McChristy. He is fair-faced and has light hair, with curls clustering around his forehead. He has well shaped features and is much more delicate looking then other New York lade brooking. ing than other New York lads brought up in the same social atmosphere. He has been a very good boy until recently, when by some circumstances he was forced into bad comnany.

Recently Charlie ran away from home and he could not be located until a few days ago, when his chum got a letter from him dated Boston, in which he stated that he had been arrested for stealing a valise. He said that a boy, whose acquaintonce he had made, had whose acquaintonce he had made, had committed the theft, and that by force of circumstances he had been arrested for the crime. Inspector Byrnes has sent one of his men to Boston with Charlie's chum, whose name is Willie Tate, to see Charlie McChristy and to obtain his release, pending an investigation as to whether he is the long lost

A special The World from Boston, in this connection, says: Thomas Adams, of the New York Central squad, in company with a young man of 13, arrived in this city shortly before midnight. They were very mysterious in their actions but it was learned that they had come for the purpose of looking at a young in prison charged aan who lies larceny, and who is supposed to be Charley Ross. The detective's plan is to have the boy with him, who is a New York companion of the boy in prison, gain admission to the prison and see the supposed Charley Ross and attempt to identi y him by a series of questions whice have been furnished by Mr. C, K. Ross for the purpose.

A Reporter's Predicament.

A reporter up at Winchester, accompanied by his sweetheart, drove out in the suburbs and called at a well-known family residence where a new baby had been lightly for the city, and the Councilmen as they shall from time to time deem expedient, and an amendment thereto, approvement as they shall from time to time deem expedient, and an amendment thereto, approved March 9, 1854, the said Board of Councilmen shall have no power to create any additional or increased debt, in the name or on behalf of said city; nor shall they issue any bonds, notes, scrip or other evidence of such debt, in the name or on behalf of said city; and in all cases where this prohibition is violated each member of said Board authorizing the ereation of such debts, or the lissue of such evidence of indeptedness, shall be held individually liable for the payment thereof. Provided: That said Board of Councilmen may create a debt or debts, not exceeding the evidence of indeptedness, shall be held individually liable for the payment thereof. Provided: That said Board of Councilmen may create a debt or debts, in the aggregate, where the same has been previously authorized by a vote of the majority of the voters of said city voting upon a proposition submitted by the Council of the city of Maysville, approved the city o said city voting upon a proposition submitted by the Counci; and provided said council, when said debt is created, shall provide the when said debt is created, snall provide the means by taxation for the payment of the interest thereof annually, and for the extinguishment of the principal in fifteen years. And whereas. James H. Hall, Tho has A. Davis and W. W. Ball, a committee from the the Commercial Sind of Maysville, Ky., a corporation organized for the purpose of promoting the comme cial interests and the general welfare of the city of Maysville, came before the City Council praying the submission of a vote to the legal voters of said city on the question as to whether the city shall be authorized and empowered to create a debt of twenty thousand ber cold, and told him that, though she usually had one every winter, this was the worst she ever had; it kept her a wake at night a good deal at first, and confined her to her bed. Then, noticing that the scribe was getting pale and nervous, she said she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers, and asked him to go in and sit down."—Exchange.

FIRST ONLY!

FIRST IN LOW PRICES.

FIRST IN QUALITIES.

FIRST IN THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

We are the first in low prices because we have the advantage of getting quantity discounts, in addition to cash discounts, and give our customers the benefit of these.

We are first in qualities because we have the whole field of manufacturers to select from; we cull from the very best of these, and the world cannot surpass them. This makes us first hands to the people---we are no "middle man"---our customers get from us the benefits of the profits of the "middle man." We do not buy of jobbers. We know no middle condition. The "middle man" is a relic bers. We know no middle condition. The "middle man" is a relic of the moss-covered past.

We are first in the interests of the people because our system, from which we never vary, of necessity works to their interest. Our unalterable rule is cash and one price. We treat all alike in respect to prices. We charge Mr. Smith, who has no Bank account, just the same for a pair of shoes that we charge Mr. Jones, the coupon clipper, for a similar pair. We do not burden the people with debts We have no credit customers of the "good" class to saddle with percentage for delinquencies, making them carry our bad debts.

We have no shelf-worn goods, no "crabs" or "trash."

Our goods are new; we do not permit them to get old---our prices force them to go.

Remarkable Increase in Receipts During the Year.

COMMISSONER MASON'S REPORT.

Comparisons Made With Previous Reports. A Steady Growth of Internal Revenue. Cost of Collections-Recommendations to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.-The report of the commission of internal revenue for the fiscal year ending June 80, 1890, is a most satisfactory exhibit of that branch of the treasury service. Not only was there a gain of $12,000,000 in the receipts of the year as compared with those of the year previous, but the estimates of the commissioner for the current fixed was the curr rent fiscal year is that the receipts from all sources of internal revenue will show a further increase of $3,000,-000, or a total of receipts of $145,000,000 for 1891.

In making this estimate Commissioner Mason says he has carefully kept in view the reduction made in the tax on tobacco and snuff and the repeal of the law imposing special taxes on dealers in tobacco, which will amount during the year 1891 to about $4,000,000.

It was upon the known steady growth of internal revenue receipts that part of the calculation was made in the treasury department, that there would be sufficient money to meet all expenditures of the government, notwithstanding the cry about a deficiency. For the past four months the increase in customs receipts over the corresponding period of last year was $12,000,000, while the increase in internal revenue receipts for the same length of time was over $3,000,000. The increase in receipts from internal revenue exceed the estimates of the commissioner last year from internal revenue exceed the estimates of the commissioner last year nearly $8,000,000, and for the past six years there has been a gradually enlarging total, running from $112,000,000 in 1885 to $142,000,000 in 1890.

To show exactly what the internal revenue bureau has accomplished, figures from the commissioner's reports are given. The total collections for the last fiscal year were $142,595,696, as compared with the total collections for 1889, which were $130,894,434, an increase of $11,700,262. In 1889 there were 91,133,550 gallons produced. In 1890 the production was increased to 111,101,738 gallons, a gain of 19,968,188 gallons. The receipts from tobacco. cigars, snuff, etc., for the fiscal year of 1890 were $33,959,991, an increase over 1889 of $2,092,130. The beer product aleo shows a remarkable growth. From 25,119,853 barrels in 1889 there was an advance to 27,561,944 barrels in 1890, an increased reduction of the state of advance to 27,561,944 barrels in 1890, an increased production of 2,442,091 barrels. The oleomargarine business is the only industry connected with the internal revenue that does not seem to be enlarging. The receipts for the past year were but $786,291, a falling off from the year previous of $107,956.

While the receipts from all sources show such a gratifying improvement Commissioner Mason is able to make the remarkable statement that the cost burglars entered the building and after of collection for the past year was 617 less than in 1889, with a total of $4,-095,110. Getting into details the commissioner shows that the number of gallons of spirits gauged during the fiscal year was 324,175,208, an increase over the previous year of 35,257,741 gallons at a cost of $752,651, a decrease of $18,-207. A better indication of economical administration and the splendid efficiency of the internal revenue service under the present commissioner could not be given.

The growth in the production of spirits is accounted for in great part by the increased number of distilleries operated during the past fiscal year. While in 1889 there were 4,399 distilleries in operation, in 1890 there were more or 6,211, 1,862 more. It might be supposed that the pay of storekeepers would be increased by this showing, but such is not the fact. The saving in this item alone is $36,015, with a total for 1890 of $1,184,-442. Another evidence of economical management is shown in the amount not be given. management is shown in the amount paid for salaries and expenses of collectors' deputies and salaries in collectors' offices. This total for the year ending 1889 was $1,747,360, which was cut down to $1,723,597 in 1890, a decrease of

The only recommendation appearing in the commissioner's report is that in in the commissioner's report is that in regard to the bounty on sugar. Secretary of Agriculture Rusk, in his report recently issued, complained that the tariff bill had turned this duty over to the treasury department, instead of to the agricultural department, where it properly belonged, and Commissionor Mason agrees with Secretary Rusk that the agricultural department, being better equipped for the purpose, should ascertain and pay this bounty. The commissioner says the internal revenue bureau has none of the machinery required to execute the law. It is simply quired to execute the law. It is simply a collection office.

It will be necessary to make a chemical analysis in all cases where bounty is claimed, and this will require the services of a large number of chemists of considerable experience. Only one chemist and microscopist are now em-ployed in the internal revenue bureau, while the department of agriculture, in addition to having a number of chemists, has given special attention to the culture of sugar-producing plants and the methods of manufacture. In view of these facts the commissioner suggests that congress be recommended to so amend the law as to require the sugar bounty to be ascertained and paid by the secretary of agriculture. If the internal revenue bureau is to remain charged with the duty, an additional force will have to be provided to fully protect the interests the government.

Killed and Robbed by Highwaymen. MERIDEN, Miss., Noy. 27.—S. S. B. Gough, aged 65, was robbed and then killed by two negro highwaymen, nine miles from this place, Wednesday night. The people in the neighborhood are after the robbers, and short work will be made of them if caught. UNITED STATES CENSUS.

Isaac Smith May Get a Respite but Henry Popp Will Hang.

Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—The United Press representative is in possession of exclusive information which at least warrants the prediction that Isaac Smith, the Pike county man sentenced to hang early Friday morning, will not die on the gallows according to program. When the case was last brought before the governor he refused to interfere with the sentence, but stated to Smith's attorney that he would not let the man hang if certain evidence could be pro-

At a late hour last night, one of the detectives in the case told the United Press that the evidence required by the governor had been secured and there was no doubt in his mind that the hanging would be declared off. The detec tive refused to say anything as to the nature of the evidence, further than to state that it implicated others in the crime and had been obtained within the
